Seven Hundred Delegates Will Gather In City

Annual State Convention Of Disciples Of Christ To Be In Session Here

FIRST MEETING ON SEPTEMBER 16

Indications are that the 113th annual state convention of the Disciples of Christ, of Pennsylvania, which will be held at the First Christian church on Public Square, September 16, 17 and 18, will be the best attended convention that the denomination has held in some years. The announcement was made this morning by Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the host church. Up until today, almost 600 delegate reservations had been received by Dr. Bennett with other arriving hourly in the mails, indicating that the registration will pass the 700 mark before Saturday.

"The people of New Castle have been grand," stated Dr. Bennett, "in our requests for rooms for the delegates and at the present moment, every request for housing has been filled, with the exception of a few that arrived in the mail just now."

State Board To Meet First

The first delegates to the convention are expected in the city on Sunday evening in order that they may attend the meeting of the State Board of Women's Organizations at the First Christian church. At 2 p. m. on Monday, the State

PA NEW OBSERVES

Recent erection by the city of permanent signs at the entrances to one way streets and alleys, warning motorists not to enter, will prove an excellent aid to avoiding confusion at these routes.

Washington street has seen considerable "face lifting" in the way of remodeling, painting, and otherwise modernizing some of the structures along the street this summer. There is still a lot that could be done in extension of this program however.

There should be a more strict enforcement of motor law relating to "one-way" cars, says a complaint to Pa. News. Quite a number operated last night with only one headlight which affected traffic, not only on state highways but also in the city. Drivers of such cars should be informed of the hazard because some times they do not know that a light has burned out.

Chivalry is not dead in New Castle Pa. News noticed. One gallant gentleman drove his car to the curb on Jefferson street last night just after the downpour, to where a young lady was in distress. Water filled the street and she wanted to cross to the bus station to catch the bus. Instead of throwing down his coat in Sir Walter Raleigh style, he assisted her into the car, drove her across the street and helped her out at the bus.

Curious as to the extent in area of our fair city after a view of the Greater New Castle's newly issued map, an accident occurred. That is, Pa. News learned that a perimeter taken on approximately a two-mile radius from the Diamond, extends to Maitland lane on the north and passes south of the southern edge of South New Castle Boro on the south. On the west and east such an imaginary line extends well outside the city limits, as far as Parkersburg on the west. Again outside the boundary line of the city, a two-mile radius crosses Harbor road on the northwest, but passes through the seventh ward southwest, skirts the southeast corner of the city near Cascade Park, and goes through Graceland cemetery out northeast. What would a community planning commission make of all this, we wonder? That New Castle like Topsy "just grew" and will continue, we hope, but perhaps with more thought for the future than has been evident in the past.

He added, that the "clasping of hands in the vow is enough."

Rice Crop In Japan Better

TOKYO, Sept. 11.—(INS)—General MacArthur's headquarters announced today that Japan's rice crop, now being harvested, will amount to a 20 per cent increase over the short 1945 crop.

It was said, however, that food prospects are only slightly better than last year and the occupied nation will still need food imports.

An occupation agricultural announcement said that although rice, soy beans and sweet potato crops were up, wheat, barley and Irish potato crops were down.

Hundreds Of German 'Hoarders' Are Picked Up In Allied Raids

FRANKFURT, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Military government headquarters in Frankfurt announced today that "hundreds" of German nationals suspected of concealing large quantities of precious stones and metals were picked up in a joint American-British operation yesterday.

The operation, carried out by the zonal constabulary, saw United States troops swoop down on German banks and private companies suspected of large-scale hoarding and failing to declare hidden tangible assets as required by military law.

The raid, completed by last midnight, was described as a "complete success."

The announcement said that hidden gems and precious metals valued at $2,500,000 were uncovered.

New York Mayor Demands Truck Strike Be Ended

Warns National Head Of Union Of Possible Bloodshed If Strike Continues

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City today summoned leaders of six locals of the AFL Teamsters Union to meet with him in an attempt to settle the nine-day-old truck strike. The walkout has caused a critical shortage of food and other articles in the metropolitan area.

The mayor's meeting followed violence in Jersey City today in which five men, members of Local 641 of the union, were arrested for having allegedly beaten up James Arthur Hughes, 54, Negro and non-union truck driver.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(INS)—A direct warning of possible bloodshed in the New York City truck drivers' strike was served today on Daniel J. Tobin, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL).

Mayor William O'Dwyer telegraphed Tobin at his international offices in Indianapolis, Ind., demanding that the parent union step in and negotiate a settlement of the ten-day-old walkout.

O'Dwyer charged communists are now taking a leading part in directing the strike.

The strike, combined with the meat shortage and the seamen's walkout has placed a crushing weight on the metropolitan area.

Harbor Is Center Of Present Work On New Highway

Work on grading the new route of state highway 422 is now in progress in the vicinity of The Harbor, three or four miles from the city. Work was started some months ago at the Ohio state line and proceeded in the direction of New Castle.

With the progress made so far, it is apparent that grading work will be largely completed this fall.

The new highway follows almost the route of the former Sharon and New Castle interurban line between New Castle and New Bedford. It will provide an almost level route from New Castle to the Ohio state line, when completed.

The highway will be a three-lane concrete route, but grading is being done on the scale of a five-lane road.

The new route will enter New Castle by way of Sampson street.

Police To Return Accused Boy To Pittsburgh Today

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Police today left for Buffalo to return 13-year-old Charles Hazlett, Jr., to Pittsburgh, where he was recently indicted for the fatal shooting of a playmate.

Young Hazlett has been in custody of Buffalo police since he confessed to the slaying of Michael Garrieh, 12, during a game of "cops and robbers."

The Pittsburgh school boy admitted that he buried the body in the basement of his Pittsburgh home, where it was discovered recently by workmen.

New Soviet Onslaught Looms At UN Session

By GEORGE DURO

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(INS)—The Russian onslaught against the obvious inclination of the United Nations Security Council to drop Soviet Ukrainian charges against Greece was in the making today.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko had a long prepared statement for delivery, in which he will contend that the situation in the Balkans is shaping up dangerously toward war, and will charge that the western powers are building up a bloc of votes against Moscow at every turn.

Another Balkan problem may come in for an airing today when the UN economic and social council resumed session. Yugoslavia is

Senator Taft Charges Nation Still Faces Real War Danger

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, charged in his keynote speech to the Ohio State Republican convention today that the nation still stands in as much war danger today as it did before World War II.

In an address flaying administration policies at home and abroad, Taft said:

"After the greatest and most successful war effort that any nation has ever made, after the sacrifices of 300 thousand lives, we stand in danger of losing all the purposes and ideals for which we fought, and we find this nation in as much danger from abroad as before the war."

Charges Appeasement

The Ohio senator went on to accuse Presidents Roosevelt and Truman of having "pursued a policy of

Shipping Strike Future Depends On W.S.B. Action

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Strike line AFL seamen looked to the wage stabilization board today for a decision which could end or prolong the six-day-old tieup of the nation's merchant fleet.

Under pressure of the country's greatest shipping snarl, the WSB wrestled in executive session with an ultimatum from the union to reverse its earlier ruling on maritime wages as the price for terminating the walkout.

WSB public members maintained a firm silence on the case, but the odds appeared against any back-down by the board.

Fail To Attend

Leaders of the 90,000 strikers refused to attend a rehearing of the controversy at which the board invited new evidence which might warrant a change in its position.

The AFL Seafarers' International Union and the Sailors' Union of the Pacific left it to the shipowners to defend agreements calling for a monthly wage boost of $2.50 on the Pacific Coast and $2.75 on the

Price Of Flour Will Be Boosted

O. P. A. Also Plans To Authorize Increase In Retail Price Of Sugar

CONTROL TAKEN OFF OF MANY ITEMS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—OPA today lifted price controls from nearly a hundred items and prepared to boost by nightfall the price of flour about 20 cents per hundred pounds.

Among the items decontrolled were lawn mowers, fountain pens, razors, razor blades, lawn and plastic furniture, baby carriages and motor scooters.

A high OPA official said the price of flour would be raised to offset higher milling costs. He said the price hike would become effective today.

This official emphasized, however, that there would be no boost in bread prices as a result of the flour increase. He said the flour hike was not large enough to be reflected in bread prices.

The milling industry requested a

Truck Strike Hurts Metropolitan Papers

Dwindling Newspaper Supplies May Force Several Papers To Suspend Publication

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Shortage of newspaper supplies may force several New York daily newspapers to suspend publication by next week, if the current strike is not settled by that time.

William Mapel, vice-chairman of the Publishers' Association of New York City, reports today that the publishers have ordered further curtailment in the size of their papers to conserve the rapidly-dwindling supplies of newsprint.

The publishers are shut off from their warehouse supplies by the nine-day strike of local 807, International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Virtually every New York paper today is appearing without display advertising other than legal and death notices.

Papers which normally run as high as 48 pages are down to 16 pages or less.

Proposal For Plebiscite In Venezia Giulia

Italy Submits Formal Proposal To Peace Conference Session At Paris

DELEGATES SEEK TO SPEED PROGRESS

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 11.—Italy submitted a formal proposal to the peace conference today for a plebiscite in the disputed Venezia Giulia area.

Former Premier Ivanoe Bonomi asked the Italian political and territorial commission to hold a plebiscite to enable the people of the area to settle by democratic means the question of the future frontier between Italy and Yugoslavia.

The proposal called for the plebiscite to be conducted by the council of foreign ministers.

Human Rights Court Out

An Australian proposal for establishment of a court of human rights was declared outside of the score of the peace conference today by the juridical and drafting commission.

The commission also rejected, by a vote of 14 to 2, a Belgian proposal to include such a court under the United Nations.

The Italian political and territorial commission meanwhile considered Yugoslav counter-proposals to Big Four recommendations on the internationalization of Trieste.

The United States, as its contribution to hurrying the conference deliberations, withdrew counter-proposals in the Big Four Italian peace treaty draft which related to the boundaries of the international zone of Trieste and the Italo-Yugoslav frontier.

The action committed America to adhere to agreed portions of the treaty relating to Trieste and the Italo-Yugoslav border.

The U. S. move was made in session.

Charge Man With Slaying Two Officers

KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 11.—(INS)—Mark McCauley, 35-year-old West Virginia desperado and coal truck driver, was in the Mineral county jail today charged with the alleged slaying of two police officers.

Sought by a posse of 150 men, McCauley was arrested in a ravine last night in the mountainous country near Emoryville, scene of the double slaying. The glow of a lighted cigarette led to his capture.

Mineral County Prosecutor V. E. Rankin said that State Police Sergeant Joseph Horne and Tucker County Sheriff O. G. Howarter were killed by a hail of bullets in an empty house near Emoryville after they placed McCauley under arrest for the theft of a truck.

Rev. Fr. Thomas L. Lappan, di-rector of St. Vincent dePaul Society, and active Holy Name man, also spoke, on Christian Manhood, giving the priest's view of the subject.

Rev. Fr. Francis King, spiritual director of the group, spoke in be-half of the Society's welfare, and a telegram from Rev. Fr. Francis Mc-Carter was read. The latter is out of town. Another speaker was Rev. Fr. Ignatius Koller, of St. Mary's.

An entertaining program followed the addresses. Movies were shown of the May rally and the summer retreats at St. Vincent and St. Fi-delis seminary. The Louis-Conn-bod pictures were also shown.

Sam Hoffmaster, magician enter-tained the group for an hour, with his clever disappearing tricks, and afterwards a lunch was served by the committee in charge.

organization will become less ef-fective to an extent even to imperil the solution of the whole refugee problem," said the Norwegian note.

The Soviet attack on Greece and the big western powers was spear-headed yesterday before the secu-rity council by Ukrainian Foreign Minister D. Z. Manulsky.

He charged the Greek government with being fascist-minded and said the "propagandists of war" are at-tempting to discredit the Soviet Union with the same "mole-eaten bogey" used by Hitler and Musso-lini before the war.

Defending communism generally, Manulsky said:

"It is time to put an end to this story about communists being a small knot of men who have no influence upon their people. The peoples' masses in all the countries examined communists during the severe events of the war and are expressing to them their confi-dence."

He said the western powers are seeking to create a "wall of votes" against Russia within the United Nations.

Poland, Yugoslavia, Australia and the Netherlands will take part with representatives of the Big Four in devising the statute.

Eliminate Bottleneck

Disputes over how these territorial issues should be settled threatened to prolong the conference for some time and the latest efforts of con-ferrees were designed to eliminate this bottleneck.

American delegation sources said meanwhile that if the treaties with the five former Axis satellites are put out of the way in time the Big Four council of foreign ministers may take up discussion of German and Austrian treaties in an October conference in New York.

This would be in accordance with a formal British proposal that the Big Four confer simultaneously with meetings of the United Nations general assembly which undoubtedly will begin Oct. 23, instead of Sept. 23 as originally scheduled, at the request of Russia, France, China and Belgium.

Informed quarters said that both the United States and Britain are anxious to move on to the problems of German and Austria since these issues are primary in the division of views between the east and the west.

NEW YORK MAYOR DEMANDS TRUCK STRIKE BE ENDED

be laid off their jobs unless the strike is settled in the next few days, it was estimated by the Com-merce and Industry Association of New York.

Mayor O'Dwyer in his telegram to Tobin failed to settle the strike on the shoulders of local 807 of the teamsters union, which re-presents some 12,000 striking drivers.

Mayor's Message

O'Dwyer told Tobin:

"Local 807 is completely out of the hands of its officers and will not negotiate terms in the present labor dispute.

"I will not stand by any longer and permit the people of this city to suffer lack of food and medicine because of the actions of some mem-bers of local 807.

"Unless you or an authorized rep-resentative of the international brotherhood assume responsibility and take control of this union and negotiate terms for the settlement of the strike it is very probable that bloodshed and injury will result."

O'Dwyer's blast at the communists was made verbally after he had dis-patched the telegram to Tobin. He charged that "reds" had distributed pamphlets last Sunday urging the drivers to reject his solution of the walkout—which they did.

Police Commissioner Alfred Wal-leider said investigation had proved the pamphlets were "communist-written, communist-printed, com-munist-distributed and communist-paid-for."

RAILWAY EXPRESS PLACES EMBARGO ON N. Y. TRAFFIC

Atlantic. The WSB on August 23 cut the increases to the $17.50 figure granted CIO maritime unions last June.

Walter Mason, AFL member of the stabilization board, said after the hearing that he heard no new evidence presented in support of the disapproved increases, although some issues were clarified.

Mason added, however, that he would offer a motion immediately at today's board meeting to reverse the August decision.

Only Procedure

Stabilization officials previously stated that there were only two ways in which the government could "give in" to break the maritime deadlock:

1. If convincing new evidence was presented to the WSB that would merit reversal of its stand; 2. If the administration high command de-cided upon a modification of the stabilization program to permit the AFL demand.

One top labor official expressed doubt that the administration was prepared to adopt the latter course at present and invite an immediate deluge of "second round" reconver-sion wage demands from unions generally.

WSB Chairman Willard Turtz re-fused to indicate whether Tuesday's rehearing of the AFL Seamen's case had brought out sufficient new data to warrant a reversal of the board's original ruling. He said:

"That's the $64 question. We are going to proceed to an immediate discussion of the case and may have a decision today."

appearing Russia," and of having "played directly into the hands of Mr. Stalin."

Taft declared that "New Dealers tried to teach the people that Communism is a kind of Liberal democracy," and added:

"Now we find that concessions made on that theory have only helped to build up the greatest totalitarian state the world has ever seen."

Calling the situation in Germany "futile and impossible," Taft said: "Recently the administration has had to realize the failure of the secret Roosevelt program, and I am afraid too late, taken a firm position against Russia. It did so largely because of Republican criticism."

Will Return To Policy

Taft added a prediction that if a New Deal congress is elected with CIO-PAC aid, the administration "will return again to appeasement of Russia, to a policy in Germany dictated by PM and the rest of the Communist press in New York and an Imperialist policy wherever it did not run against Russian in-terests."

The senator credited Gen. Dou-glas MacArthur with good adminis-tration in Japan, saying:

"In Japan, the insiders in state department policy apparently tried to pursue the same futile course (as in Germany), but were checked in some respects by the sound, practical sense of General MacArthur, supported by the confi-dence of Secretary Patterson and by his own prestige.

"But for him we would have seen the same fiasco as in Germany."

Pounding the administration's ap-peal to the police, Taft declared that President Truman chose to side with CIO-PAC, and asserted that "the Democratic party is split down the middle." He said:

"For a while it was uncertain which faction of the party Mr. Truman would favor, but up to this time he has endorsed every project of the CIO-PAC, and has thereby made the PAC program the official program of the Democratic party—regardless of what the regular Dem-ocrats may think or say."

FUR STORAGE AND RUG CLEANING

PRICE OF FLOUR WILL BE BOOSTED

26-cents-per-hundred-pounds boost to compensate millers for increased bagging and production costs re-sulting from manufacture of low extraction rate flour.

The OPA official also said that the agency planned to announce an increase in the retail price of sugar before the end of the week. Another OPA spokesman said this boost would amount to more than one cent per pound.

Sugar Increase

The sugar increase is being au-thorized to reflect higher prices being paid to Cuban producers under an agreement between the United States and Cuba.

Meanwhile, OPA raised ceiling prices of window and picture glass about 18 per cent, effective im-me-diately, to offset increases in labor, material and freight costs since last December.

To reflect the window glass in-crease, the agency also boosted by about four per cent the ceiling prices for glazed sash and windows, glazed sash doors, combination doors and glazed garage doors. These hikes are effective next Mon-day.

Items Removed

Among the other items removed from price control today were:

'Open At The Top'

An American B-29 bomber is scheduled to take off soon at Honolulu on a 10,000-mile non-stop flight over the top of the world to Cairo, Egypt. The purpose behind the attempt, Army Air Force officers say openly, is to convince the people of this country that the United States is vulnerable to attack from across the Arctic.

There is another announced purpose, which is to test equipment and instruments under polar weather conditions. But that could have been accomplished in other and less spectacular ways. Indeed, it may be assumed that it has already been virtually achieved, for this venture would hardly have been undertaken if there were much doubt about its chances of success.

So the nation is called upon to witness a demonstration of what air power can mean in case of a future emergency. The Army Air Forces plan to provide an illustration of what General Spaatz meant when he said the other day that America's defenses are "open at the top." And the citizenry is expected to conclude that something must be done now to remedy that condition.

As a matter of fact, it seems likely that Americans already have a fairly clear understanding of the need for adequate defenses against a possible assault from the north. After all, it was more than nine years ago that Russian airmen flew across the Arctic from Moscow to San Jacinto, Calif., and everyone is aware that aviation has advanced many a long stride since.

But the proof, assuming a successful flight for the "Pacusan Dream Boat," will be a useful reminder that the age foreshadowed then has arrived.

Back To Newton

The economic soothsayers still are too busy adding up their own paper losses to explain all the whys and wherefores of recent stock market declines. A number of theories have been advanced.

One of these was liquidation on the assumption the decline of the last three months might mean the list was discounting a business peak in the next twelve months. The international situation was pointed to by some observers. Another theory was that the slump may have been in the nature of a climax that could result in a rally.

In plain English, the mumbo-jumbo means that Wall Street wisecrackers aren't sure what hit them—though it is obvious that something did.

And that probably is the significant feature of the stock market break. For a dozen years prophets and professors have been talking about ironing out the peaks and valleys of the business cycle. They established the SEC, clamped down on margin requirements, and set up a regiment of regulatory agencies. They peered at their horoscopes and talked wisely of call money, hedging, Federal Reserve balances, brokers' loans. They pointed accusing fingers at the 1929 crash and said, "It can't happen here."

The big bad wolf was dead and the bear had gone over the mountain. Speculation was out, and the stock exchange now was a market for trading in high grade common stock.

It was a pretty picture and the men who had planned it that way were proud of it. Yet on one day the market dropped $4,500,000,000—or roughly one-fortieth of the nation's annual income—despite all the theories and all the laws and all the agencies. It must be confusing to the experts and the planners who thought they had repealed the law of financial gravity.

Apparently, it's still true that what goes up must come down.

Washington's Baby

If there was ever a case in which the government's responsibility was plain it is the strike which has completely paralyzed the nation's shipping. The decision of a government agency, the War Stabilization Board, brought on this tie-up. Only decisive action by government can end the strike and lift the hand that has frozen a great transportation system essential to the nation's welfare.

There is no dispute between management and labor to be reconciled here. The union and the ship operators have agreed, by collective bargaining, on the terms of the contract they want to sign. The strike is aimed directly at the WSB's refusal to allow an AFL union to accept better terms than a CIO union was able to obtain. In this case the administration cannot follow its usual tactics of buying the strikers off by granting them more than they could win by bargaining. It cannot surrender here without wrecking the WSB and upsetting the settlement with the CIO which staved off another maritime strike last June.

In the end, except in the unlikely event that the union backs down, the government will have no alternative except to intervene to end the national emergency brought on by the strike. In the meantime the ship provides the public, the administration, and labor one more example of what happens when government attempts to say what wages shall be paid instead of allowing the issue to be settled by free, collective bargaining. This strike is Washington's baby.

Chance To Do A Job

What can be an important development in the promotion of highway safety on a national basis is an executive order just issued by President Truman. The order directs the establishment of a federal committee to carry on a continuing campaign for the reduction of traffic accidents.

The committee will include representatives of the Public Roads Administration, the National Bureau of Standards, the Bureau of Census, the Federal Works Agency, the Office of Education, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Federal Interdepartmental Safety Council and the Agriculture, Interior, War, Navy and Post Office departments.

In its work the committee will cooperate with state and local governments and with national highway safety organizations. Ignorance of different conditions over state lines is a constant source of trouble. If the committee can contrive to reduce such trouble to an appreciable extent, it will justify its establishment. This latest federal undertaking should not be permitted, though, to become an excuse for "additions to the federal payroll, or for the retention of drones."

If Russian scientists expect to perfect a chemical which will enable Russians to live 150 years, they certainly expect their patients to stay on the Communist line.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

THE SCHOOTEACHER'S MORALE

More than most of us realize, how well a child learns from his teacher depends pretty largely on the teacher's morale. Now, her morale depends, in turn, on the attitude of the parents of her children toward her.

I get an occasional letter which describes a teacher who seems to be a pretty poor one. I also receive many more letters describing wonderful teachers. Since there are so many wonderful teachers, I wish I heard about more of them.

As I have gone about the nation in the past several years, talking face to face with hundreds of parents, I have been struck with how few parents ever refer to a poor teacher and how many times more parents speak enthusiastically about very superior teachers. Sometimes I have asked these parents if they have expressed to the teacher their sincere appreciation of her. Usually they say they have not. They just take her good traits for granted.

Poor Teachers. I am aware that a few children must have a teacher who does not understand them or treat them as growing, precious personalities. The parents of these children may not find a way to change the teacher. But so long as the child must have this poor teacher, he will like her and learn more readily from her. I wish that parents, when they hear the child complain about the teacher, would not express a judgment then and there on that teacher but would remind the child of the many annoyances and difficulties the teacher faces; that these parents would, moreover help the child, especially in the upper grades and high school, to see that in life we need to learn to adapt ourselves to persons and situations we don't like.

Just see how much we parents might do for the school child if we tried to help him see that he should try hard to find out what his teacher expects of him and then to do his best to measure up to this expectation. In the meanwhile, we might properly try through appropriate channels to win the teacher to better ways.

Most of all, we parents should strive to back up the teacher and let her and our own child know we do. Let us be more generous at expressing to the teacher the appreciation of her we sincerely feel. Let us be more ready to celebrate with her her successes. As we do so, our child will be benefited. My bulletin "Parents Can Help the Child Succeed at School," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, N. C.—Kenneth C. Royall, undersecretary of war: "We are conserving and training and encouraging our scientists. It is now possible to feed eight radio programs over one beam . . . Fortunately it is still possible to shut them all off with one switch.

But the day is coming closer when F. H. LaGuardia will ride into the just plain bill script on the Lone Ranger's horse.

The result will be programmed as "The lone Fiorello's just plain horse."

What we are waiting for is the day our set merges a Security Council session with the Bob Hope show and Phil Baker asking "For $64 . . . what's the difference between irium and delirium?"

The new system also makes it possible to receive ticker, teletype and facsimile at one time. But for bread and milk deliveries in New York we still have to wait for the trucker's strike to end.

Science is marching on but the AFL and CIO aren't exactly standing still.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

During the last few weeks a large number of letters have come to me, all asking the same question.

"Do you think the United Nations will succeed?"

Those are, of course not the exact words.

But the general idea was "Will there be peace? Will those frock-coated gentlemen at Lake Success (that's the name of their new temporary headquarters) be able to bring order out of all this chaos?"

And just as many of my readers asked the same question about the peace conference in Paris.

I have predated myself to keep away from politics in this column. Enough of my contemporaries have assumed the roles of prognosticator and soothsayer to make it unnecessary for me to get out on a limb.

But peace on earth is not a political matter at all—and as long as the peace conference and the UN tackle their jobs from the political viewpoint rather than the human one, there will be no peace and there can be no peace.

You have read the news from Paris and from UN headquarters, and so have I.

And from what I have seen so far those gentlemen don't give a hoot about human values but are concerned primarily with power and glory and aggrandizement for their own countries and for themselves.

"What's in it for me?" That's the all-important question.

Sometimes I wonder whether human beings will ever grow up. Whether their actions will ever reach the stature of their talks and their bombastic orations.

From Me To You

An election is coming up . . . just a few more weeks . . . days are so short and there is so much to do the time will roll by before you know it. People who have not voted during the past two years must register before the 18th of the month or they will not be eligible to vote this Fall. And that is not all . . . take for example last year in the second ward . . . 5625 citizens were registered . . . and only 1852 voted. We are not crying for any particular party . . . all that is urged is that you register and then get out and vote. Remember friends this is your nation . . . your vote can help run the nation.

If the above figure gives you the creeps in the second ward . . . think about the rest of the town . . . think about the rest of the state and that should give you a shudder when all is added together and you come out with a national figure. We all complain about how the government is run . . . we say that the OPA is OK in principal but the management is all wet. Why then shouldn't we all see that our neighbors as well as ourselves get out, register . . . VOTE.

Remember back a few months when the War Munitions Trials were being thought of . . . how the new became red hot down Washington way . . . how Senator May and Garson went out venting around bushes in their talk. Yes, we remember. Things were red hot but that will be nothing to what is coming this winter. Wait until it really opens up in Washington and the heat turns white hot. Arguments about the 42 mortar bring memories . . . how it was used in the thick of things . . . how the men used to stand away off and fire the tube by pulling a string. It was a definite help in beating down the krauts . . . now we argue about who made them explode prematurely . . . What we would like to know . . . along with Wyatt R. Campbell . . . war machines were made in sufficient numbers to beat back the enemy, why can't housing materials be made now quick enough to beat back discomfort to those who need shelter?

You know why . . . confused Washington . . . too many professors with theory and no practical knowledge are guiding affairs . . . What we need are business men . . . who know the way and wherefore of good business.

Leadership Lacking In Political Parties

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. FOR reasons too well known to need repetition, in the off-year preceding a presidential election the political situation in New York is nationally interesting and important. The note struck and the things done in the respective party gatherings there make an impression on the rest of the country. There is no doubt about that.

THIS time it would seem that the impression made by neither the Democratic nor the Republican convention has been any too good. The most unpleasant feature of both was the degree to which each exhibited its subservience to the professional labor bosses. It was a craven performance and the excuse that it was necessary does not redeem it. For the situation where it appears to be necessary is due not to the smartness of the labor bosses but to the extreme eagerness of the party politicians for labor support.

THIS period of politics stems from the White House-labor union alliance engineered by the late Mr. Roosevelt in 1934, which resulted in almost complete labor-boss partnership with the Democrats in three presidential campaigns. Since that year the Democrats have consistently yielded to every labor-boss demand in order to continue the solidarity of their support, while the Republicans have vainly striven to crack it. The effect of all this has been to put the labor bosses in a dictatorial position where, though this year their inability to punish or reward has been convincingly demonstrated in the primaries, the politicians are afraid to reject their terms.

PARTICULARLY is this true in New York and with the Democrats, where the American Labor party, completely controlled by a CIO-Communist combination, has proven its indispensability to Democratic success. If the State Under the circumstances, it was inevitable that the Democrats nominate a ticket acceptable to the ALP control. This they have done most conspicuously in the case of Senator James Mead, the candidate for Governor and in the case of Mr. Henry Epstein, a member of the CIO's Political Action Committee, for the Court of Appeals. Senator Mead a short time ago was proclaimed by the CIO publicity machine as one of the two "perfect senators" in that on no occasion has he failed to vote for or against legislation as desired by the CIO.

THAT, plus his undeviating support of every New Deal policy, is really what rendered him available. Four years ago when the CIO with Mr. Roosevelt's aid proposed him for the nomination he was opposed by Mr. James A. Farley on the ground that he just did not have the stuff to be a governor. Mr. Farley is the kind of Democrat who always supports the ticket but he

Slashing Subsidies

Government payments to private individuals and firms for the purpose of stimulating production and holding down prices have since 1943 cost the taxpayers of this country billions of dollars. There is some consolation for the higher prices consumers are now paying to know that the task of balancing the Federal budget is being made easier by a substantial reduction in these subsidies.

With the elimination of price controls over dairy products and grain the Treasury will no longer have to pay at the rate of $750,000,000 a year to producers. After January 10 the Price Control Board has ordered the subsidies on meat to be cut in half. That will mean a further saving of about $25,000,000 a month. Subsidies have also been discontinued on some processed vegetables.

Although it is hard to believe, Congress appropriated more money for Government agencies disbursing subsidies than they find themselves able to spend. No subsidies are permitted to producers whose products are not under price control.

Government payments to private individuals were justified when the country was mobilized for war. But such subsidies have no place in the type of free economy which most Americans want.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

No Longer Necessary To Sell Pro Football

By BILL CUNNINGHAM

It just may be that the All-Star and charity-game participation of the professional football teams is largely a thing of the past. That's hurling a guess a long way, because as matters stand at the moment, there are, and have been, more of them on the docket than ever. In Chicago recently, for example, while the big Tribune had all the stops out double forte on its All-Star game, with the championship Los Angeles Rams as the professional entrant, two of the other, and less stentorian dailies, were solemnly plugging away at games of their own. One involved the aforementioned Bears, and the New York Giants. That classic has been staged in the meantime and the Bears won, 19-0. The other epic lined up the new Chicago team, the Rockets, of the new and rival league, the All-American Conference, versus, to the best of memory, the Cleveland Browns of the same confederation.

For Worthy Cause

Each of these was for a worthy cause, and the fact was heavily publicized. One was veterans' relief.

The big All-Star affair was the first to be held, and the All-Stars were, most of them, merely waiting for the immediate affair to be over before joining, or in many cases, rejoining their various league teams. A brilliant cluster of them was indentured to the new Chicago Rockets, and the paper sponsoring the Rockets in their charity game gave the All-Star affair quite a write-up in advance. It, however, was so adroitly turned that it had the All-Star game reading as if it were only a warm-up for the Rocket Stars, and the man who wrote it was either the seventh son of a seventh son, or was luckier than he had any right to hope, for that's exactly what it turned out to be.

Unless all those involved have been the advantage because, although they have never profited from these contests financially, they've appeared for their expenses, the publicity and the good will involved. The word "expenses," of course, can be prostituted shamelessly.

There was another professional's reason for All-Star participation in the between-wars period. The pros liked to refuse the charge of loyal college football, and they were no better, or at least, not much better than the better college teams. This they considered themselves able to prove by annually meeting collections of ex-collegians in Chicago, New York, Boston and way stations. They generally managed to win, although sometimes they didn't, but in most of these affairs, they had the advantage because, although their squads were usually numerically smaller, they were big, hard-bitten, experienced units facing a herd of loosely-glued individuals, who, in some three weeks, had tried to find the common denominator of all the coaching systems under which they'd been developed.

Days Are Probably Over

Those days are probably over. Now assault is still assault; nuisances are still nuisances; disturbances of peace are still disturbances; blocking traffic and destruction of property are still illegal, whether perpetrated by an organized group or by an individual. The weakness of law enforcement against these offenses when they are connected with Labor disputes is the strange doctrine that a Labor Union has peculiar immunity and special privileges not enjoyed by the ordinary individual citizen.

We have seen in various Strikes from Stanford, Connecticut to Hollywood and Burbank, California, the failure of police authorities, public prosecutors and judges to impose the penalties provided by law for such offenses as those which are common to mass action. Most of this inactivity is due to political consideration; men who face the test of election to office are afraid to risk the hostility of the labor vote by enforcing the laws against organized groups on the same basis as it is enforced against individuals.

Now, no new legislation will have any better chance of enforcing acts of unlawful assembly and brutal assault than the laws already on the books.

190th F.A. Group To Gather Sunday

Second Get-Together Of Regimental Headquarters Battery Scheduled For Altoona

Regimental Headquarters Battery of the 190th Field Artillery Group will hold its second Get Together this coming Sunday afternoon, September 15, at 2 p. m., at the Frankstown Armory, Altoona, Pa. All former battymen have been invited to attend and renew old acquaintances. They should, however, notify James Allison, 1653 Columbia Ave., Tyrone, Penna., in advance of their intended presence.

The 190th Field Artillery (National Guard) was originally an all-Pennsylvania unit, departing for Camp Shelby, Miss., on February 1, 1941, under command of Colonel Samuel B. Wolfe, of Lewisburg, Pa. The Headquarters Battery original-ly was from Blair County, adding men from throughout the State in time. Colonel Jim Dan Hill of Superior, Wisconsin, assumed command in February 1942, and remained with the Group until after the war. The 190th Field Artillery trained in Northern Ireland (Bally Cary, County Antrim), and England (Devizes, Wilts., and Bude, North Cornwall). It arrived on Omaha Beach on D-1, continuing through France, Belgium, Germany, and Czechoslovakia, operating under General Hodges' 1st United States Army (First on the beaches, first in Paris, first in Germany, first through the Siegfried Line, first to capture a German town, first to cross the Rhine River, and first to contact the Russians).

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

By JULIAN HARTT
(Substituting While John Todd Is On Vacation)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11.—(INS).—Fortunio Bonanova spread that broad Spanish grin across his tanned face today and owned up to your reporter that he's leading quite a double life these days.

For a minute your reporter feared the confession might have some dire connection with the strawberry port-fault Fortunio had just packed away as an afternoon snack, but it turned out to be something much more business like. Said Fortunio:

"About the parfait, I should be ashamed—eating like a fat, self-indulgent lady. But seriously, life is getting pretty interesting when one minute I'm a character actor, and just by getting into an airplane for a few hours I come out a movie star."

Your reporter agreed that, for an actor, that would be an interesting transformation indeed. Fortunio, however, pointed out that not just any airplane would do and that probably wouldn't work for anyone else anyhow.

Star In Mexico
"It has to be a plane going to Mexico," he explained. "You see, up here I am a character actor; down there I am a star."

Which is the very understandable explanation for the fact that as soon as he winds up his role in M-G-M's "Pia" with Esther Williams, Fortunio will be dashing out to the Burbank airport and thence to Mexico City, where he's slated for the title role in an ambitious Spanish-language production of "Hernan Cortes."

"After that, I'm set for the lead in 'Don Quixote,' and a little later on we're thinking of doing 'Carmen'—but if nothing comes of that in Mexico, I may try to work out an independent production up here."

American movie goers better get their fingers crossed and hope something goes wrong in Mexico City. It isn't profitable for Mexican producers to make bi-lingual movies, and Bonanova in "Carmen" is about as logical a bit of casting that could be dreamed up.

First Rate Actor
Movie fans only know him as a first-rate actor in such films as "Going My Way," "A Bell for Adano," "For Whom the Bell Tolls," and the current "Monsieur Beaucaire," but he really began as an opera singer.

A native of the island of Mallorca, off the Spanish coast, young Fortunio got off to a flying start as protegee of the famous Chaliapin. He made his debut as Balentin in Gounod's "Faust" at Barcelona, and his lyric baritone soon became familiar throughout the continent.

"It was in 'Carmen,' however, that he really wowed them. After a performance one night in the south of France, at an outdoor amphitheater, he and some cronies were enjoying a gay evening at sidewalk cafe. As Fortunio recalls it:

"Somebody said: 'Look, Fortunio, you're a Spaniard; you know bull fighting, and in that outdoor theater you've got the space—why don't you fight the bull instead of making like it's going on offstage?'"

"It seems we were having something besides parfaits that night, so I said: 'Sure, why not?'"

A few nights later the arrangements were made and Fortunio not only sang the opera, but fought a real live bull—in person—before an amazed and delighted audience. Having seen a bull or two in angry mood, your reporter figured Fortunio had well proved his devotion to his art.

Such a man should be allowed to have his parfaits—and eat 'em, too.

Baby Crop At Jameson Hospital Well Cared For

Part of the record-breaking crop of babies born at the Jameson Memorial hospital recently, is shown above, in a corner of the nursery of the hospital. At the incubator in the rear is Mrs. Shirley Grieve, nurse in charge of the nursery, at her task of feeding the tiny Chambers twins, Sheryl Ann and Ronald Eugene, aged one week with a medicine dropper.

Nowhere in the world does one get better care than in the nursery of the Jameson Memorial hospital, where currently 42 little tiny mites are residing until it is time to accompany their mothers back home. These 42, most of them little girl babies, are a part of the record-breaking crop born recently at the hospital. That the care given them is of the very best is attested by the fact that every little bundle of cheer is in the best of health. Not one has anything the matter with it.

When The News photographer and his assistant went into the nursery to make the picture shown above, each had to don a sterile gown and mask, the same as that worn by Mrs. Grieve. In fact, no person gets into that well-guarded room without this protection. The nurses who wheel them back and forth between the nursery and their mothers' rooms at feeding time, and the women who clean up the room, all are similarly attired.

Fifty-One At One Time
When the picture was taken, there were only 42 babies being cared for in the nursery, but at the peak of the stock rush late in August there were 51 of them, and as stated before, the girls greatly outnumbered the boys.

The most interesting occupants of the nursery at the present time are the little Chambers twins, Sheryl Ann, weight three pounds and two ounces, and Ronald Eugene, weight two pounds and ten ounces, who arrived in this world on September 4.

Just a little ahead of schedule. They are the pride and joy of Aviation Chief Machinist Mate and Mrs. Harry L. Chambers of 620 West Clayton street. Chief Chambers was able to get a furlough from his base at Atlantic City to come home for the event. Tomorrow they will be one week old, and from present indications, they are going to get along all right, but they will have to live in the little air-conditioned, heat controlled box for some little time before they will be able to get out and shift for themselves. That is often the case with twins.

The twins receive their rations on regular schedule, but not in the orthodox manner. They are fed a drop at a time from the medicine dropper which Mrs. Grieve is holding in the picture, so it is naturally slow work, but no one begrudges the time.

Just in case any more incubator babies arrive there is a spare incubator alongside the one in use. It is not so modern, however, and could be replaced by a newer model, hospital authorities state. This would make a worth-while project for a group of kindly disposed citizens.

This is but one section of the hospital which is overcrowded, Administrator C. R. Youngquist points out. There are times that the hospital authorities are at their wits' end to provide space for the number of patients desiring admission. One day last week the census showed 213 patients who were being cared for in quarters designed to accommodate 182. As soon as possible the board of directors and hospital authorities hope a new wing can be added, because it is badly needed.

Veterans Should Also Make Application At Once If They Want Lump Sum Paid Beneficiary

PITTSBURGH Sept. 11.—Veterans who wish to have their beneficiaries receive one-sum payments under national service life insurance, in accordance with the recent liberalization authorized by congress, were advised today to have their policies changed accordingly. G. Frank Hartigan, insurance officer of the Pittsburgh regional office of the Veterans Administration, said that all benefits will be settled according to the monthly-payment plan, unless the insured files specific instructions with the VA during his lifetime to the effect that he wishes payment to be made in a lump sum.

He also pointed out that the recent law extends until February 1, the period in which lapsed NSLI policies may be reinstated without a physical examination. All that is required of the veteran is that he submit a statement to the effect that he is in as good health now as on the date on which the policy lapsed, and make certain premium payments.

Deshon Opening Still Delayed
No Definite Date Set For Opening Of V.A. Hospital At Butler, Dr. Decker States

Monthly reports on the status of two Veterans Administration hospitals in this area, located at Aspinwall and Butler, were announced today by the VA.

The Aspinwall hospital had a total of 333 patients on September 1, according to the report of Dr. W. H. Bradford, manager. These include 134 veterans with service-connected disorders, 703 with non-service connected disorders and one patient for domiciliary care.

Dr. Raymond R. Decker, manager of the VA's new 1,000-bed hospital at Butler (formerly Deshon general hospital), announced that the opening date for that hospital is still indefinite.

Says Business Has Gone To Dogs

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—(INS)—A purchasing agent for a Philadelphia building concern charged today that the lumber business has gone to the dogs.

C. A. Finney, the agent, told the mayor's emergency housing committee at a meeting protesting federal priority systems, that he had succeeded in buying 26 loads of lumber from a southern mill.

"When I got the bill," Finney complained, "it included one for 26 pound dogs at $200 apiece. And the dogs were never delivered, at that."

Nearly half of the British civilian deaths due to air raids occurred in London.

Seek Agreement To Return Mines

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—The government, the United Mine Workers and the soft coal mine owners sought an agreement today whereby the nation's bituminous coal mines can be returned to private operation.

The government is eager to get rid of the mines, the owners want their property back and the miners' union would be glad to see the end of federal control—but obstacles make an early agreement unlikely.

Today's conference was called by Adm. Ben Moreell, coal mine administrator, who wants John L. Lewis, head of the miners, and the operators to get together on a contract. Once that is done, the government can give up control with the assurance that production will continue.

Youngstown Steel Clerk Kills Wife; Attempts Suicide

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 11.—James F. Rounds, 41, clerk at the MacDonald plant of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, today rested in the St. Elizabeth hospital from wounds inflicted upon himself after he shot and killed his divorced wife yesterday.

Rounds is the father of three children, and had been living at the Y. M. C. A. He went to the apartment of his former wife and found her washing clothes in the basement.

Mrs. Rounds fled from the basement and her ex-husband pulled out a gun and fired at her. Mrs. Rounds fled to a nearby apartment building and was going up the stairs when she was fatally wounded. Her body and that of Rounds were found in a heap at the foot of the stairs.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

was conspicuously absent from the convention that unanimously nominated Senator Mead, who will now be endorsed by the ALP. The Communists have already made it clear that they are anxious to coalesce so far as it can be done.

THUS, the Democratic ticket again evidences a cowardly alliance with elements that ought to alienate every independent voter in the State. However, the Republicans are not free from the same taint of political cowardice. It is true that Governor Dewey, to his credit, is violently opposed by both the CIO and the Communists. But it is also true that Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan, clearly the best aspirant for the senatorial nomination, was turned down by the Republican leadership, because of arrogant demands and open threats from a few American Federation of Labor leaders in the State.

THE attack, plus the outrageous and baseless charges made against General Donovan, ought to have insured his nomination. Instead, they insured his defeat, which was disgraceful to the party. It is no excuse that Mr. Ives, nominated for the Senate, is an able, well-qualified man. Nor is it much of an excuse that Governor Dewey, with the CIO and Communists against him, could not be expected to antagonize the A. F. of L. too. Apparently, in New York the party leadership on both sides is willing to sacrifice self respect for dubious political profit. Each is willing to be bullied by these labor professions, rather than call a bluff which is becoming more transparent all the time.

Parachute Is Aimed To Save Lives In Fires

AKRON, O.—The LaSalle hotel fire in Chicago has inspired the Summit Manufacturing Co. to develop a device designed to reduce death hazards in building fires.

First tests conducted showed that a man and a woman were uninjured when they jumped from a viaduct 130 feet into the Cuyahoga river here.

Vice President Peter Schneider says the mechanism is attached to window sills. When an alarm is sounded, building occupants put on a harness similar to a parachute and are lowered to the ground on a strong rope.

A delaying device slowly lowers the wearer. In tests it took only 27 seconds for a person to be lowered a distance equal to that of a 10-story building.

Fewer Chickens But More Eggs, Is U. S. Forecast

WASHINGTON — The Department of Agriculture says egg producers probably will start 1947 with from six to 10 per cent fewer layers than in 1946 as a result of a heavy ceiling and a decrease in the number of chickens raised.

Because of the tight feed situation, the department said, farmers this year raised about 18 per cent fewer chickens for replacement purposes. At the same time, they eliminated thousands of less productive hens from their flocks.

Domestic egg supplies still are expected to be larger than a year ago, however, because the armed forces will not take as many and the lower production will be offset by large storage stocks of eggs.

Egg prices probably will be lower than last year and feed prices higher, although an anticipated record corn and wheat crop may force down prices.

Italy Gets Bargain On Army Surplus

ROME, Sept. 11.—U. S. army equipment valued at $365,000,000 went to Italy for $160,000,000 with the signing of an agreement transferring all the army's unsold and future surplus in the Mediterranean theater.

Paul Bonner, representing the Office of Foreign Liquidation, signed for the United States. He said the sale "will help re-establish Italian trade—one of the factors for the realization of the democratic ideal."

Good Taste

RETURNING HOSPITALITY
Recently, to reestablish an acquaintance, an old friend from my home town invited me to lunch with her in a restaurant. So that our husbands might meet, I invited them to call and spend the evening with us. Now does she owe me a call or do I owe her one. Nothing was said upon their departure about having us at their house, which indicates to me that they are not interested in developing our friendship. Neither my husband nor I have ever been in her home.

Answer: It is up to her to suggest your next meeting, which should be a visit from both of you to both of them at their home. This is so because she came to your house on invitation from you and did not make a call "on her own" which, were this the case, would require a return call from you.

It is not necessary, however, at the end of one meeting for the departing guests to set a date for a visit to their house. In fact, it is usually better to have a "breather" and then arrange another meeting.

A bread and butter letter is not essential, except in the case of an overnight visit; but it is always a nice gesture to write to our hosts who showed us a pleasant evening and gave us dinner, especially if we were in a strange city on a visit and really welcomed such hospitality.

Question: Must every piece of china in an entire dinner set be of matching design?
Answer: Heretofore sets of china had to be of matching design but present fashion is more lenient, allowing place plates, salad and dessert plates and after-dinner (demitasse) coffee cups to be of designs different from the other pieces of the set used with them. Of course, if you prefer, these may be all of the same design.

Troops To Leave Austria As Soon As Peace's Signed

FRANKFURT, Sept. 11.—(INS)—U. S. Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Nuehrer announced today that all U. S. occupation troops in Austria will be withdrawn from the country shortly after the peace treaty is signed.

While the new chief of staff to Gen. Joseph T. McNarney would give no specific estimate, he said: "I hope all army personnel will be gone three or four months after the signing."

He said also that he thought all displaced persons in the U. S. zone would be "repatriated, resettled and turned over to the German economy" before UNRRA ends its functions in Europe next year.

He estimated that present occupation plans in Germany would call for from 150,000 to 200,000 troops and added that this figure might be necessary for a number of years.

Restoration Of Coal Stripping Will Be Studied

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—(INS)—The National Coal association will scout restoration of coal stripping operations in Pennsylvania next week, it was announced today by Commerce Secretary Floyd Chaffant.

A committee representing Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kansas was slated to meet at Pottsville September 15 to study conservation of surface cover in the southern anthracite fields, he said.

The following day, Chaffant reported, the group will complete its inspection of the hard coal fields and move into Clearfield, Indiana and Westmoreland counties to study reforestation projects at bituminous stripmines.

Soft coal mines in Washington county were scheduled to be inspected September 18, he added.

Union Dissension Denied By Mueller
Duquesne Light Company's Union Head Denies Organization Is Not In Accord

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—(INS)—President George Mueller of the Duquesne Light Company's Independent union today denied reports of dissension among the rank and file workers.

Earlier a member of the union's general committee charged there was dissension and that a strong movement was afoot for a new vote on the strike question.

The committeeman, whose name was not disclosed, said that the majority of employees were unable to vote and many demanded a new vote to be taken by secret ballot.

Mueller said that the general membership was solidly behind the strike but were somewhat perturbed by the injunction issued at midnight Monday by Judge Walter P. Smart. He added:

"You hear all sorts of reports and rumors now."

"We are abiding by the court decision and are awaiting Friday's ruling. After that comes we will determine our course."

Meanwhile Pittsburgh had recovered from its case of jitters and returned to normalcy.

MINERS STRIKE
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Approximately 4,200 bituminous coal miners in Western Pennsylvania were idle today in a wave of strikes as the members of the Federal Coal Mine administration met to map out plans to return the mines to their owners.

Coal mine administrators in Pittsburgh said seven pits were affected by the walkouts. The majority of the miners struck over working conditions, while others walked off their jobs in sympathy.

Rocket Ships To Need Protection In Solar Trips

Several Plans Are Advocated As Means Of Protection Against Meteorites

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 11.—(INS)—Members of the American Astronomical society today were concerned with protective devices rocket ships will find necessary if they encounter fast-moving meteorites on their trips through solar space.

A paper written by Dr. Fred L. Whipple of Harvard university observatory, Cambridge, Mass., advocated two envelopes of quarter-inch steel to protect passenger-carrying rocket ships from collisions with meteorites. It was read at the 75th meeting of the society held last night at the University of Wisconsin.

The envelopes would act much as bumpers to ward off the cosmic projectiles. Whipple, emphasizing the need of such protection, said:

"Space in the solar system in the vicinity of the earth is filled with debris which is ordinarily invisible. In the event a space ship hit a meteor the size of a walnut or a man's fist, the heat generated by the kinetic energy of the collision would destroy both the ship and the meteorite."

Whipple said such projectiles might carry through one thickness of metal but they would be spent by the time they reached the second steel envelope.

'Squatters' Battle London Police Raid

Incident Follows Arrest Of Six
'Squatters'; Police Say Communists Head Movement

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Squatters who seized the home of the Duchess of Bedford today defended themselves with iron bars against a raid by police.

The police left after the skirmish announcing they would seek reinforcements.

The incident occurred after six squatters were arrested in what London police say is an organized movement by Communists to seize property. One of the squatter leaders announced that even "smoke bombs won't get us out."

The squatters, who, according to police are led by well known "agitators," seized control of the home of the Duchess of Bedford and immediately stocked the place with provisions to withstand a siege.

One of the squatter leaders said he expected to be besieged by police and added:

"We have enough provisions to last a long time. Smoke bombs won't get us out."

The arrests were made in a London suburb where six men were seized and accused of unlawfully taking possession of private property.

At the same time police cars toured London streets watching for would-be squatters. Despite police efforts the "homeless" hordes took over several London homes. However, some of them left when the ministry of health warned they would be responsible for any damage.

Strange Disease Baffles Research

SAN FRANCISCO—A mysterious nerve disease which concentrates particularly in the fingers, legs and toes, has been reported by Dr. Robert Wartenberg, assistant clinical professor of neurology in the University of California medical school.

Wartenberg said the unnamed disease followed no discernible pattern, was no handicap but was very stubborn.

The neurologist said he had studied the disease for 10 years but still could not trace its cause. He said it apparently was the result of a virus of low virulence which attacks the skin or superficial nerves of the human body exclusively.

THE DOCTOR discovers the underlying cause of the malady and his skill in medication sup- plies the remedy.

contain three essentials for

Electric Living

Entrance Capacity

You can't crowd electricity into your home if it can't get through your entrance fuse box or circuit breaker. For modern electric living the circuit breaker should provide convenient provisions for enough separate wire lines to adequately and safely run all electric appliances.

Sufficient Circuits

Wires, like water pipes, have definite capacities. To provide ample electric service to all parts of the house, you must have enough separate circuits of heavy enough wire to make appliances operate at peak efficiency.

Plenty of Outlets

Make your home flexible for furniture re-arrangement and convenient appliance use. Provide plenty of electric outlets. Outlets placed at intervals of 10 feet offer ample convenience.

Great Books Forum Discuss Liberty At Tuesday Session

John Stuart Mill's Essay Is Interesting Topic For Round Table
Discussion

John Stuart Mill's Essay on Liberty was the topic for discussion Tuesday evening at the meetings of the Great Books Forum conducted at the public library. Abraham Krash capably continued his role as leader of the discussion.

In the analysis of the great essay, liberalism of the 19th century was compared with modern liberalism of today. According to Mill's essay, an individual should have freedom of thought, word and action; but these free liberties are not to infringe upon the rights of others. The discussion last evening included finding out exactly when are rights of others interfered with, in regards to freedom of speech, religion, etc.

The list of preferred books for future discussions were handed in last evening, in order to prepare for future sessions.

Next week the Great Books Forum will discuss Dean Acheson's Report on Atomic Energy.

Plan Extension Of Scout Training

DuBOIS, Pa., Sept. 11.—A comprehensive five-year plan for expansion of the services of the Bucktail Council, Boy Scouts of America, to make scouting available for every boy in the four-county Bucktail area, is being developed by leaders of the council, and if it is successful it will become a model upon which similar expansions will be carried out by 50 other councils in the third region.

Bucktail Council, covering Clearfield, Elk, Centre and Jefferson counties, was one of four western Pennsylvania councils chosen by regional directors to initiate the expansion movement that is planned for all scoutdom. President H. B. Eynon of St. Marys designated George Ritter of Ridgway as chairman of a special expansion committee and surrounded him with the "best brains" in the council.

For two months the development of the plan has been under way upon a district basis. Leaders in each district have made profile studies of their respective areas to determine the number of boys wanting scouting, the number already receiving scouting advantages and the number of adults needed to be added to the organization to meet the demands.

POLIO IN STATE

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—(INS)—The state health department announced today that 143 cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in Pennsylvania since January 1.

The incidence rate for the year up to September 10 compared with 369 infections for a similar period of 1945, the department added.

It was pointed out, however, that the comparison presented "no real yardstick," since the disease neared epidemic proportions last year.

Missing Man's Body Is Found

CALIFORNIA, Sept. 11.—The body of Charles A. Towner, 64, missing for a week, was recovered from the Monongahela river near Coal Center and Deputy Coroner Martin Timko said death was the result of accidental drowning.

Towner, formerly a chief engineer for the Charlevoix Water Works, had been missing from his home, the Arlington hotel here, since September 1, and examination of the body disclosed it had apparently been in the water for several days.

Relatives said Towner had been missing since last Sunday and since that time a quiet search had been made for him by members of the family.

Greek Forces Seek To Halt Banditry

ATHENS, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Greek security forces moved today to stem a rising tide of attacks by marauding bands engaged in plunder.

A British broadcast, heard by NBC, said troops had been dispatched to northern Greece to check "infiltration across the border of revolutionary elements."

The Athens press ministry revealed that "a band of 100 armed" men identified as communists attacked, pillaged and set fire to a village in the Edessa region of West Macedonia.

Other alleged communist bands were said to have robbed a customs police station in South Macedonia of $6,000.

Assails Major Political Parties

Congressman Cox Charges Both Are
Angling For Radical Labor Vote
At Risk Of U. S. Ruin

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), a leader of the powerful house southern Democratic bloc, today blasted both major political parties for angling for the radical labor vote at the risk of "hurting the country into ruin."

Cox, in an interview, assailed both Democrats and Republicans for "veering too far away from fundamental principles of Americanism" and added:

"The two parties are gambling for the votes of minority groups and they are both paying an enormous price for it. They are both culpable."

The Georgia Democrat cited the present Maritime strike as an example of what he considers to be the present state of government in the United States. He asserted:

"These men are striking against the government. A strike against the government is treason in fact and should be held to be treason by law. Any government tolerating this is not fulfilling its function."

Cox, one of the leaders of the fight for the Case anti-strike bill in the last session of congress, commented that "congress sincerely wanted to remedy the labor situation—and the failure to do so was not the fault of congress."

He implied that the responsibility for the failure to meet the strike menace could be laid at the door of both political parties.

DOG SWIPES TOMATOES

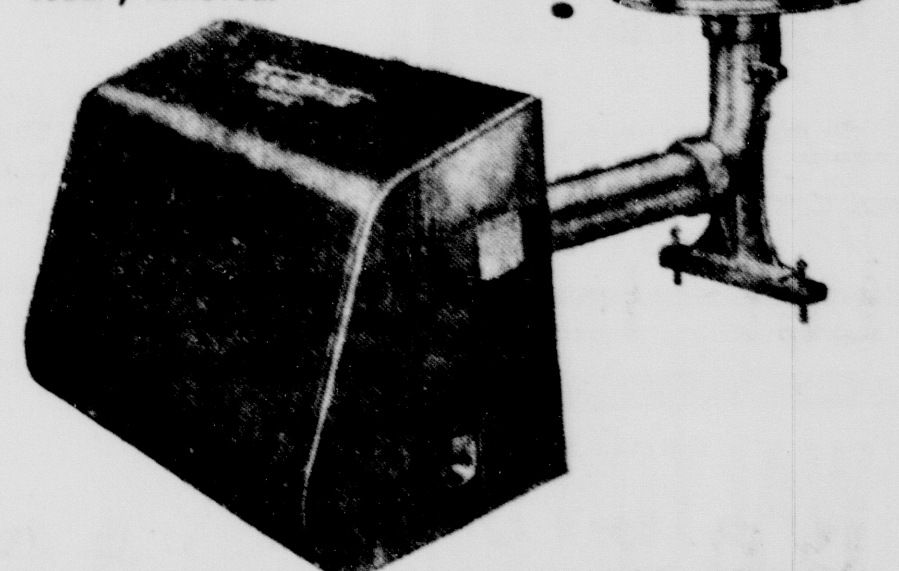

LARCHMONT, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(INS)—Jiggs, a large Irish setter, was in the dog house today after police ordered him confined as a tomato thief.

Mrs. Harry M. Ullman kept vigil over her garden after noting the mysterious disappearance of tomatoes from the vine. She saw Jiggs pick a ripe tomato and carry it home in its mouth.

Mrs. B. P. Meckert, owner of Jiggs, explained that Jiggs, now six years old, had reverted to a puppy trick which it was believed he had outgrown. The tomatoes were found in the Meckert garage undamaged by Jiggs' teeth.

Meat Production Shows Sharp Drop

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—The agriculture department on Tuesday reported a sharp drop in meat production as price ceilings on beef, pork, mutton and other meat went into effect in the nation's thousands of retail stores.

The department said that federally-inspected meat production in the first week following the restoration of OPA livestock controls was 73 per cent below the output of the previous "free market" week.

It announced that production for the week ending Sept. 7 was only 74 million pounds as compared with an output during the preceding week of 249 million pounds. OPA livestock ceilings became effective on Sept. 1.

Officials said the Sept. 7 meat production figure was the lowest for the year.

In the week ending Sept. 7, the slaughter of cattle under federal inspection was estimated at 70,000 head, a drop of 75 per cent below the previous week. Beef production was estimated at 33 million pounds, compared with an output of 14 million pounds the previous week.

The department estimated hog slaughter during the first week of livestock controls at 166,000 head, a decline of 75 per cent from the slaughter of the preceding week. Pork production was calculated at 23 million pounds and lamb production at four million, 800 thousand pounds.

The department also reported a 43 per cent drop in calf slaughter and a 32 per cent decline in the slaughter of sheep and lamb.

Giants' kettles is the popular name for deep cavities or potholes occurring in surface rocks. They are common in the glaciated regions of North America and Europe.

Landscaping On Highway Will Honor War Hero

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—(INS)—A highway landscaping project was planned today as a memorial to Pfc. Foster J. Sayers, of Howard, posthumous winner of the Congressional medal of honor.

Two and a half miles of roadside fringing U. S. Route 220 south of Blanchard, Sayers' birthplace, will be planted with native trees and shrubs by the state highway department in cooperation with the Bellefonte Post of the American Legion.

Legionnaires planned to erect a stone marker with a bronze plaque honoring the fallen World War II hero after the planting was completed this fall.

Sayers was killed November 12, 1944, near Thionville, France, while charging a nest of Germans.

He was attached to the 357th Infantry Regiment of the 90th Division.

Governor Gives Commendation To Mayor Lawrence

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh was congratulated today by Gov. Edward Martin for a "fine job" in trying to avoid the power strike in the steel city.

"The matter is now in the hands of the court," the governor explained.

"Mayor Lawrence has worked hard to avoid the strike and has done a fine job," he added. "As I told him in the beginning, every power of the state is at his disposal to avoid anything which might injure the health and safety of our people."

Constances Will Farewell Tonight

Missionary Couple To Deliver Final Addresses At Alliance Gospel Tabernacle At 7:45

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Constance, of this city, missionary appointees to Central China, will bring their farewell greetings to the city tonight at 7:45 o'clock, in the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street.

Mrs. Constance, the former Nellie Adams of this city, was born and raised in New Castle, having attended the New Castle public grade and high schools and then graduating from the Missionary Training Institute, Nyack, N. Y.

Rev. Constance, a native of Mansfield, Ohio, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Constance of that city.

The couple for the past two years have been doing pioneer missionary work in California, Price and Salt Lake City, Utah under the Christian and Missionary Alliance. They established churches for Alliance in connection with their work in the West.

Rev. and Mrs. Constance, with their children, will depart the latter part of this week, for Mansfield, where they will farefare, before proceeding to New York City, where they will receive final instructions from the Alliance Board there.

During their stay in the city, the missionary family has been visiting with Mrs. Constances mother, Mrs. Myrtle Adams, 605 Court street.

Arab Spokesman Makes Demands At London Conference

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—An Arab spokesman demanded at the London roundtable conference on Palestine today that no part of the holy land be cut off and made into a separate Jewish state.

The demand was made by Faris Bey El Khouri, president of the Syrian chamber of deputies, in a speech made in answer to the formal address yesterday by British Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee.

The Syrian representative declared:

"We should welcome every attempt at economic cooperation with Britain. It would be to the interest of both parties."

"But we are of the firm conviction that no such cooperation would give concrete results if any recognition of independent political status is accorded to Jews in Palestine."

At this point he said:

"No part of Palestine should be cut off to make a home or state for a body of immigrants belonging to different nationalities."

Altoona To Keep Equipment Used In Home Defense

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 11.—During the progress of the war the Federal Office of Civilian Defense sent to Altoona at least $100,000 worth of equipment, including pumps, gas masks, helmets, hospital cots, extinguishers, firemen's tools and equipment.

The material was turned over to the auxiliary firemen and to hospitals, while a lot of it went to individuals for safekeeping and emergency use, they keeping it in their homes.

Now more than a year after the war is ended word has come as to the disposition of it. Extinguishers, helmets and other articles are to be retained as war souvenirs to those to whom they were given; hospitals will keep the cots and other supplies given them, while the larger items are to be sold.

The equipment not turned over to the hospitals or individuals has been kept in the former NYA building which the city took over from the government. Since there were no air raids or enemy invasions in these parts, there was little use for any of the stuff save the cots and hospital supplies and it is all in good condition.

Chairman Jones is arranging a good program for the occasion and has been the case for a number of years past, these old war veterans will defy tradition by dispersing on an allegedly unlucky day.

Downtown Area Gets Heavy Rain

After a long dry spell, welcome rain fell over most sections of the city about 6:15 last evening.

In the downtown section it seemed to reach near cloudburst proportions for a few minutes. In most places the storm sewers were unable to accommodate the volume of water for nearly a half an hour after the rain was over.

Water coming down from County Line and Court streets sent water down East Washington street with such force that when it struck parked automobiles and light standards it threw waves of water several feet into the air.

Mill and Mercer streets were covered with the curbs at Washington street. Pedestrians found it necessary to wait for sometime before it was possible to cross the street. Each block was like a separate island with people stranded till the water went down.

One woman who wanted to cross Jefferson street to the bus station, to catch a waiting bus, had to go nearly to Grant street to find a suitable place to cross. Men were noted in many sections, crossing over the high water at the curbs, on the bumpers of cars parked there. No damage was noted as a result of the rain.

Rio De Janeiro Conference To Meet New Delay

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Further postponement of the scheduled Rio De Janeiro conference of American foreign ministers appeared certain today despite official U. S. feeling that the meeting must be held soon if hemispheric solidarity is to be maintained.

Reports from Paris have already hinted that Brazil, the host nation, is considering a delay. It is necessitated by the fact that the Brazilian government had planned to hold the meeting on November 15.

That date was decided on when the UN general assembly meeting was scheduled to be held in September. Now the assembly appears destined to meet on Oct. 23, just three weeks before the Rio conference.

Since the New York meeting is likely to last at least three weeks, it appeared impossible to stick to the Nov. 15 date for Rio.

The state of Connecticut ranks fourth in the U. S. in the production of silk.

Episcopal Church Convention Open

Owen J. Roberts Elected As President Of 650-Member House Of Deputies

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Sessions of the 55th triennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church were resumed today following the breaking of the two 160-year-old traditions on the opening day.

Former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia was elected president of the 650-member house of deputies—the first layman ever to hold the post.

The convention also seated Mrs. Randolph H. Dyer of St. Louis as its first woman deputy. Dr. C. Rankin Barnes of San Diego, Calif., was elected secretary of the house.

Justice Roberts received 338 votes, compared with 236 tallied for the Very Rev. Dr. Claude W. Sprouse, dean of Grace and Holy Trinity church, Kansas City, Mo.

The 10-day convention will consider many important topics including world peace, the proposed Episcopal-Methodist merger, the church's stand on divorce and the election of a successor to Presiding Bishop Henry St. George Tucker of Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Geoffrey P. Fisher, wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, who is a guest at the convention, told the women's auxiliary of the National Council of the Episcopal church that "it is time to put dynamite under the pews" to increase church activity.

Skeleton Is Found At Housing Project

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Sept. 11.—(INS)—New Kensington police today sought the identity of a skeleton of a man unearthed by a bulldozer yesterday while leveling ground for a new housing project.

Chief of Police Richard Barnes said the skull bore three bullet holes. A belt buckle bearing the initial "M" and a crucifix, a key and a spectacle frame were the only clues found.

Authorities estimated that the body had been in the shallow lime-fill grave about 20 years.

Historic 'J. B.' To End Days As Post

ST. LOUIS—Uncut grass and towering weeds will soon mat the historic Jefferson Barracks parade ground, hard packed by the tramp of such famous men as Ulysses S. Grant and Robert E. Lee.

Scheduled for abandonment as a military installation, the 120-year-old post has been declared surplus and will be turned over to the War Assets Administration.

Already city officials and other interests are scrambling for the wooded acreage on the banks of the Mississippi. Homes some day will spring from the grassy sweeps, but the history and tradition it has made will not be forgotten.

Already a strong quiet has settled over the post, harking back to the days when it was carved out of the wilderness. When a few tiny log buildings housed men who went out to fight such troublesome warriors as Black Hawk.

Named in memory of Thomas Jefferson, who died a few days before the property was bought in July, 1826, the barracks has become one of the major military posts of the nation.

Threaded through its history are such names as Jefferson Davis, William Tecumseh Sherman, Phil Sheridan, Zachary "Old Rough and Ready" Taylor, John C. Fremont and Grant and Lee.

The young Lieutenant Grant moved into the post on Sept. 30, 1843. Soon after, the shadow of war with Mexico hung over the nation.

Grant moved out with his regiment, but returned when the clouds cleared. He retired from the army and bought a farm on nearby Gravois road. There he married Julia Dent and it was from this farm he hauled cordwood to the military post. Later he re-entered the army to become the leader of the Union army in the Civil War.

Sherman ("Civil War is hell") fame) also was a resident of the barracks district. He operated a horse-car line in St. Louis. When he learned crates marked "marble" going down the Mississippi contained guns and ammunition he re-entered the army. His military career was climaxed by his "march through Georgia."

The aftermath of the Civil War is portrayed in the row of white houses that stand guard over the Union and Confederate dead in the cemetery at Jefferson Barracks.

The weeds will be growing at the barracks soon, covering many historic spots and markers. But history will remember "J. B."

Huge Motors To Drive Pumps At Grand Coulee
COULEE DAM, Wash.—Six of the largest electric motors ever built are to be installed at Grand Coulee dam to drive the world's mightiest pumps.

Officials, in asking for bids on the motors, specified that they were to be 65,000-horsepower jobs, operating at 290 revolutions per minute. In driving the huge pumps, they will supply irrigation water for the million-acre Columbia basin project of south-central Washington, forcing water from Lake Roosevelt into a feeder canal leading to the 27-mile equalizing reservoir in nearby Grand Coulee.

Each pump will have a capacity of 1350 cubic feet (10,000 gallons) per second.

The government needs the equipment to meet its schedule of providing water for 400,000 acres in the basin by 1950-51.

Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug, who recently inspected the project, is strongly supporting the bureau's efforts to have the acreage under crops by the summer of 1951.

The 65,000-horsepower motors will get their electricity from the world's largest generators operating in the powerhouse—one generator providing enough energy for two of the giant motors.

West Point Burial For Capt. Kelly Is Desire Of Widow
MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 11.—(INS)—Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow, widow of Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., said today she would like to have the air hero's body returned to the United States for burial at West Point.

Kelly was credited with three direct hits on Japanese warships in the Philippines shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor. He was killed when his plane crashed after the raid.

"I didn't even know his body had been definitely identified until I returned from a trip this past week-end," said Mrs. Pedlow, who remarried in 1943.

She said she would like Kelly to be buried on the grounds of the U. S. Military Academy so that his six-year-old son, Colin, 3rd, can visit his father's grave if he enrolls at West Point.

Versatile Widow Scaffs At Shortage Of Manpower
COLUMBUS, Sept. 11.—No manpower shortage has been able to keep the widowed Mrs. Beatrice Stuart from having the addition she wanted for her home.

Only five feet tall and old enough to be a grandmother, Mrs. Stuart has spent much of her time in the past two years hauling stones, mixing and laying cement, shingling roofs. And now—with only occasional help from the stronger sex—she has a new basement, a sun porch and a new living room.

"I wanted to have a nice place and I didn't have the money to pay someone to do it. So I did it myself," Mrs. Stuart said.

Woman Welfare Worker Is Shot

Backwoods Delaware Farmer Is Held On Murder Charge As Result

DOVER, Del., Sept. 11.—(INS)—Thomas Griffith, 50-year-old backwoods Delaware farmer, faced arraignment on a murder charge today after allegedly admitting the shotgun slaying of a woman welfare worker.

State police said Griffith confessed killing Ruth Reinecke, 50, of Dover, because he thought she intended placing five of his seven children in a home.

The farmer surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Daniel F. Sullivan in the Dover courthouse on noon and a half after the shooting at his farm in Sandtown, 20 miles west of the state capital.

Griffith was quoted as saying he pumped three shotgun shells into Miss Reinecke as she was driving away in her car. Then he walked three miles to the home of his brother-in-law, who drove him to Dover.

Latest Effort Of Gen. Marshall In China Is Failure
NANKING, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Gen. George C. Marshall's latest effort to halt the spread of civil war in China failed today when he returned from Kuling without the assurance of the Nationalists that they will issue a cease-fire order as a condition of continued political discussions with the Communists.

Immediately after his return to Nanking, Marshall held a three-hour conference with the chief Communist negotiator, Gen. Chou En-Lai. Emerging from the conference, Chou said:

"We are no nearer the solution than we were two weeks ago."

A Communist spokesman, Wang Peng Nan, added:

"The failure of the government to issue a cease-fire order is final indication that the Kuomintang is committed to an all-out war policy against the Communists."

Minnesota has more than seven million acres of peat, almost entirely unexploited.

Suggests Italy May Not Accept Peace Treaty

ROME, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Giuseppe Saragat, president of the Italian constituent assembly, suggested today that the legislative body might vote against ratification of the peace treaty being drafted in Paris.

In an exclusive interview with International News Service just before the assembly convened in special session to discuss the peace treaty draft, Saragat said:

"The profound disillusion felt throughout Italy, because the Allies failed to live up to their promises, is liable to affect the final vote of the assembly with regard to ratification of the treaty."

Saragat, a prominent Socialist leader, explained that certain provisions of the treaty related to economics and territory presented a grave stumbling block to development of the Italian Republic.

He said the "gravity of the present hour" resulting from economic, social and political causes, also was intensified by the present cabinet crisis.

Describing desperate efforts of the government to find a way to solve present problems, Saragat declared:

"Unfortunately millions of Italians do not seem to believe the republic can solve the problems confronting them."

Pickets Picketed At Los Angeles

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Sept. 11.—(INS)—Pickets picketed at Los Angeles harbor today as the CIO fielded a picket force at three docks outnumbering the AFL seamen pickets 40 to 1.

The AFL pickets appeared with the calling of its national maritime strike. No sooner had the AFL pickets appeared at docks than the CIO maritime unions were out with pledges of cooperation and assistance in picketing.

The CIO offer met a frosty reception from the AFL seamen, however, with Harlan Snow, the AFL sailors union of the Pacific business agent, declaring the AFL would conduct its own picketing without any CIO aid.

This pointed snub was ignored by the CIO forces, consisting mainly of longshoremen.

The AFL pickets marched on the Grace, Matson and American-Hawaiian docks but withdrew to a strategic distance when the CIO pickets took the field.

Predicts Meat
Shortage To Last
For Rest Of Year

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Spokesmen for the livestock industry in the middle west predicted today that the acute meat shortage will continue for the rest of 1946.

Feedlots where most of the nation's choice beef cattle are fattened for market were reported nearly empty.

Mark Pickell, executive secretary of the corn belt live stock producers association, said that farmers have liquidated almost all their animals since Aug. 1 to beat re-establishment of OPA price ceilings.

He said they are reluctant to refill them with cattle. Pickell declared:

"There are probably fewer animals in the Midwest being fed grain now than at any time since the civil war."

"The shipment of feeders into this area shows an increase in the number of calves being purchased and a decline in the number of heavy steers."

"This means the farmers are buying young light animals that will be ready for market only after OPA expires next year."

Livestock men declared that the high price of feeders, the high price of corn and the scarcity of feeders will prevent anything like a normal movement of replacement cattle into the feedlots, despite the prospect of a record corn crop.

Stogie Smoking
By Wife Cause
Of Divorce Plea

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—(INS)—John Berger didn't mind the three packs of cigarettes his wife, Anna, smoked daily and he even overlooked her puffing on a cornob pipe in bed.

But it was too much for Berger when she took to smoking strong, black Italian cigars. So now he wants a divorce.

Berger, in his petition for divorce on file in common pleas court today in Pittsburgh, charged that during their wedding reception his wife called him a "stogie" and made him get down on the floor and the her shoes.

There are other things too that irked Berger. He charged that his wife caused him stinging pain by snapping the end of a towel against his bare body.

Berger said his wife also refused to cook his meals and made him eat in hamburger joints. He said she would not wash his clothes. He claimed that his spouse frequently stayed out all night and refused to explain her absence. He declared that on occasions she boasted of the many fine presents she received from other men.

Berger said he stood it as long as he could but his health finally gave way and he had to seek medical aid.

Coffee Drinking
Shows Increase

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The National Coffee Association reported today that coffee drinking in America is increasing by leaps and bounds, and in the next ten years the average American will consume 50 per cent more of his favorite beverage.

A spokesman for the Pan-American coffee bureau of the association announced that if advertising and promotional plans carry through the future consumption record will surpass even this year's all-time high mark of more than two and one-half billion pounds.

He attributed the great increase in consumption to advertising and promotion.

Fails In Efforts
For Trade Pact
With Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Sir Wilfrid Eady, head of a British trade mission, conceded today that efforts to effect a trade agreement with Argentina have ended in failure.

Sir Wilfrid said he and his party would fly back to London this week with "empty hands."

The British group wished to continue the agreement to buy all of Argentina's exportable meat with a seven per cent price increase and conversion of $500,000,000, now frozen in London, into a long-term loan to Argentina.

Miguel Miranda, president of the Argentine Central bank, countered with a proposal that the meat prices be increased 200 per cent and that a better interest arrangement be made on the loan.

The negotiations were stalled on the interest payments. It was reported with Miranda resisting all pressure to change his attitude. The Argentine bank leader was reported to have threatened to resign if a deal different from that which he recommended was made.

Coal Strippers To Contest Decision

Clearfield County Operators To Battle Decision Upholding New State Law

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—(INS)—F. Brewster Wickersham, Harrisburg attorney for three Clearfield county coal strippers, said today he would file exceptions to a Dauphin county court decision upholding the constitutionality of Pennsylvania's 1945 strip mining law.

Wickersham said he would object to "everything the court decided against us." Exceptions must be filed by September 19.

In an opinion handed down Monday, Judge Earl E. Richards ruled the statute was a "conservation measure" designed to eliminate phases of the strip mining industry "against the public interest."

The decision held that the $100 registration fee did not constitute a discriminatory tax as charged by contestants.

Injunctions to restrain the departments of mines and forests and waters from enforcing the law were sought last October by Alexander Dufour, of Grampian, R. D., the Elba Coal company and the York-shire Coal company, Inc., both of Madera. More than 80 other soft coal firms entered the case as interveners.

Navy Plans Fastest
Merry-Go-Round To Provide For Tests

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—The Navy announced plans today to build the world's fastest merry-go-round in an effort to determine the effect of supersonic speeds on the human body.

The device—called a human centrifuge—actually consists of a cab carried on the end of a long boom that is whirled at high speeds, duplicating the effects of airplane maneuvers at supersonic speeds.

The centrifuge will be constructed by the Bureau of Yards and Docks at the Naval Aircraft Modification unit, Johnsville, Pa. It will be housed in a specially constructed reinforced concrete building which will also contain all necessary laboratories for study of effects of high speed on pilots.

Speeds approaching 1,000 miles an hour will be reached by the centrifuge, and the cab will be built so that pressures inside can be lowered to duplicate the effects of flying at very high altitudes. The cab will be so mounted that it can be whirled in various positions, and the pilot will be able to "fly" it from the prone, sitting or standing position.

The cab will be equipped with signal lights, buzzer, camera, voice box and a television screen.

Find New Clue In
Dissection Murder
In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Police today turned up another clue in the chain of evidence linking San Francisco's dissection murder to the wholesale flower market.

Police learned that the spangled cotton in which parts of a dissected body were wrapped, were similar to the type used in the flower market to prepare gardenias and other blossoms for shipment.

The victim in the case has been tentatively identified as Ramon B. Lopez, 52, a carnation grower.

Search continued for the head, hands, upper arms and other parts of the body.

Police said they had no further clues other than the cotton, and had no definite suspects in the case.

In their questioning of friends and relatives, police were unable to find anyone who had seen Lopez since last Wednesday morning.

The remains were found in two large egg cartons and a null can be found a downtown theater Sunday night.

A room-by-room search of hotels in the area where the remains were discovered failed to throw any additional light on the case.

Shutdown Threat
Is Being Faced
In New England

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Threat of shutdowns and unemployment in New England industries was seen today as the Maritime strike entered its seventh day.

New Bedford fishermen were idle and the crews of the fleet was believed to be in sympathy with the AFL shipping strike.

Fishermen and two veterans with an LST went to the aid of stranded vacationists on Martin's Vineyard and Nantucket following the strike of seamen of the Massachusetts Steamship Lines, Inc.

Supplies running low as cargoes on 36 ships remained unloaded. Wool, hides, woodpulp, sugar, cheese, pineapple, steel coil, jute and asphalt all were in port to keep plants going but there was no way to get them to the mills and processing plants.

"Christmas Trees"
every day

at the New Castle
Central Office

WHEN YOU LIFT your telephone receiver to make a call, a little light glows on the switchboard at the central office.

Sometimes so many lights come on at once that the board looks like a Christmas tree! This happens particularly at the rush hours, late in the morning and early in the evening.

Sometimes we just can't handle the load without delays.

So, if the operator can't answer immediately when you lift the receiver, we hope you'll understand. This situation is temporary. Although we've stretched our switchboard facilities to provide service sooner for the many people waiting for telephones, we've ordered tons of new facilities which will make your service better than ever.

P. S.—If you'll make your calls before or after the peak hours, it's likely that you'll find no delay at all.

Convention Featured By Battles Between So-Called Communist Elements And Others

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 11.—(INS)—Members of the CIO-United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union whose international convention has been featured by battles between so-called Communist and anti-Communist elements plan to elect officers today.

The anti-left wing faction of the union, which opposed the re-election of the union leaders because it characterized them as "Reds," lost several tests of strength yesterday.

One occurred when the anti-administration forces headed by Harry Block of Philadelphia, a union vice president, sought to postpone the election until Friday. His motion was defeated.

Block is said to have the support of James Carey, national secretary of the CIO and former UE head, in seeking to rid the union of Communist domination.

Block and Carey saw the convention vote down more than a score of anti-Red resolutions, including one to set on record against Communist-sponsored policies. The vote was 2839 to 673 on this measure.

But spokesmen for the anti-Communist group indicated they would carry on the fight which began in 1941 to clear the union of Red tendencies.

ELGIN, Ill.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Schroeder received a 4800-pound memorial to their son, LaBorne H. Schroeder, 20, who was killed when a Japanese suicide plane crashed on the USS Aaron Ward, that the minesweeper was being decommissioned, he wrote the navy department asking for the anchor. The navy sent it to him.

The Schroeders plan to give the anchor to a veterans' group to serve as a memorial to the Elgin navy dead.

Brooklyn Buys 'Lefty' Minner

Paul "Lefty" Minner, former New Wilmington high school basketball great, and baseball ace of all-star teams of this city, has culminated his career in the minor leagues by being purchased by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Minner has been one of the slab mainstays with Mobile of the Southern Association. The 23-year-old left hander had a fling with the Dodgers in the spring but was farmed out in favor of Joe Hatten. Minner stands six feet five and tips the beams at 210 pounds. His record with Mobile adds up to 13 wins and 11 losses for the season.

Villanova will operate from the T-information this season.

Ellwood Faces Toughest First Game In Years

Wolverines Rated Underdogs As They Prepare To Meet Brownsville Away Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—Ellwood City high school's Wolverines will know Saturday morning whether or not they are going anywhere in the W. P. I. A. L. this season.

The Croft-Gills machine will journey to Brownsville Friday night to begin 1946 grid hostilities with one of the most formidable members of the class AA bracket and the "Wolves" are rated underdogs for the clash.

A defeat at the hands of the "Brownies" would spell doom for the Blue and White right off the bat in the championship race, whereas a victory would propel them along on a fast start in their quest for laurels.

Team Questionmark

Just what Croft has up his football sleeve no one seems to know. Of the eleven who started against Beaver Falls in the curtain-dropper last season, only four are around this fall, and none of them will be at their old positions.

Al Miller, halfback on the 1945 team, has been switched to one of the ends; Phil Konyak, the sturdy center, is now cutting capers at guard; Bob Biscaglia, guard in '45, has added weight and speed and is now a tackle candidate; and George McDougall, fullback, is now operating at one of the halves.

Despite important losses, the Tubers look improved. Croft's juggling and experimenting has given him two good workable teams and he intends to employ the dual team system in the games this fall. The squad has been given a welcome transfusion by the influx of a fine sophomore crop and things in general are looking up.

Tough Schedule

As has been mentioned the Brownsville hurdle may be a little too high for the Wolves to surmount, especially without the benefit of a warm-up clash. Last Friday the "Brownies" sharpened themselves for Ellwood by trouncing Masontown, W. Va., 46-0. This may or may not be exemplary of their power.

Following this ambitious opener the Wolverines will tangle with Rochester, a team that dumped them out of the race last year, 12-7. The Rams are much improved and one of the powers of the valley. Farrell follows and then the Blue and White enjoys an open date before they wade through the bottom half of their card.

The chips are down for big "Dutch" as he pilots his first Ellwood team in four years.

GUILD AGAINST ROBINSON BOUT FOR PITTSBURGH

Manager's Guild Contends Holding Up Of Recent Purse Unwarranted

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—(INS)—Matchmaker Jake Mintz today disclosed that the New York Managers' Boxing Guild is attempting to prevent Sugar Robinson from appearing in a boxing bout in Pittsburgh because the purses of two other fighters had been held up for poor showings.

Mintz said that George Gainsfield, Robinson's manager, attempted to prevent the uncrowned welterweight king from taking part in the Pittsburgh fight because the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission held up the purses in the Lee Q. Murray-Perk Daniel fiasco. The two fighters also were suspended.

The Managers' Guild, Mintz said, claimed the commission's action was unwarranted and voted to boycott all Pittsburgh matches.

Seek Golf Honors

Two Of New Castle's Finest Young Amateur Stars In Castle Hills Finals Sunday

Fred Palmer and Stanley Bukowski, two of New Castle's finest young amateur golf stars, are in the club championship finals at the Castle Hills course and will play a 36-hole match Sunday for the title. It was announced by Paul Hunt, chairman of the Castle Hills golf committee.

Fred Palmer, ranked through a stiff bunch of stars including his brother Bob to reach the finals, Bukowski had to dispose of young Tedy Lach to gain the finals in his bracket.

36-Holes Sunday

The two men will start play Sunday at 9 o'clock on the first 18 holes and will conclude their match with another 18 holes in the afternoon. Quite a large gallery of golf fans will no doubt follow these two fine fellows as they strive for the 1946 championship.

John Davis recently won the second-flight championship by defeating of Clare (Kelly) Montgomery in a hotly contested match.

Softball Contest

Gets Rained Out

After one inning the rains came last night and washed out the first game of a three-game city-industrial softball championship series between the Son of Italy and Forest A. C. at Marshall field. The game has been re-scheduled for Thursday evening at Marshall field at 5:45 o'clock, it was announced.

Both Kings Point and Miami are newcomers on the Villanova grid slate this season.

FARM LAND PRICES UP 59 PER CENT

Present developments, including the recent rise in prices paid for farm land, bear a striking resemblance to those which followed World War I, and lead to a word of caution voiced by extension agricultural economists of the Pennsylvania State College.

Dr. Kenneth Hood, says that "if future developments continue to follow the post World War I pattern, then it becomes increasingly important for prospective land buyers, and lenders, to realize that the end of the period of high income years may be approaching."

The average price of Pennsylvania farms, Dr. Hood reports, has risen 59 per cent since the pre-war years of 1935-39. For the United States as a whole, land values have increased even more—77 per cent. This level is only 14 per cent below the 1920 inflationary peak.

built up on a substantial number of farms as the result of sale. One-half of all sales during the last year had an initial encumbrance of 50 per cent or more, and for one-seventh of the sales a debt exceeding 75 per cent of the purchase price was incurred.

The debt being placed on many farms, Dr. Hood declares, is larger than the full market value a few years ago. On the average, a debt of 58 per cent or more of current value would approximate the full value in 1941.
